RE: Early College Program

In collaboration with Project Learn and Middlesex Community College, Lowell High School will be embarking on a new Early College pathway this fall. The Early College program will expand on Lowell High School's successful dual enrollment program with Middlesex Community College. This Early College work will support ninth grade students, with an initial one credit career explorations course, and will continue programming through senior year. Attached is an overview of the program and two job descriptions for School Committee approval.

I would like to thank LZ Nunn for providing the overview information for this report.
